Brunch with Santa is always a special day! Over 150 families decorated gingerbread houses, met with Santa and enjoyed the delicious buffet.

Martinis and Mistletoe was the first party in the new Carmichael's Bar & Lounge. Over 700 members and guests enjoyed festive cocktails, food, music and friendship. We're already looking forward to next year's party!

Photo Contest!

Snap a creative selfie showing your ACC pride in one of the new first floor spaces. Photos must be submitted before the end of January for a chance to win one of three fabulous prizes! You may tag #myclubACC in your Instagram post or simply send the photo directly to the ACC membership office at info@accolumbus.com.

1st place: One night stay in an ACC hotel suite

2nd Place: Two hour bowling certificate

3rd Place: $30 certificate to Carmichael's Bar & Lounge

Winners will be announced on February 1st. Good luck!

After much anticipation, the first floor renovation is nearly complete and open for business. The Board is extremely excited about the changes and hope you are enjoying the more contemporary and updated look and feel in Carmichael's Bar and Lounge. The remaining spaces will be opening soon. We can't wait to show you each new area as they open!

In line with our new décor, we have implemented changes in our attire policy. The current Dress Code policy is posted online on our website, and also at the Club's front desk. While still being refined, this new policy may require tweaking as the spaces become more frequented. The House Committee and Board of Directors will continue to keep an eye on this policy and will communicate any changes or updates as needed.

We often refer to the Club as a community defined as a social place whether dining, exercising or mingling. As these House Rules were bandied about, the Board and House Committee strove to keep a lovely ambiance while not being overly strict. Our Club is a special place. These rules are intended to keep it that way.

Carla Sokol
President

*Reflections from Jim Hendrix,
President 2004*

"My most memorable club moment...there are many. Playing basketball, making lifelong friends, committee and Board meetings, but my most memorable club moment will always be the Father Daughter Dance. We would bring cousins, friends and have a great time, with a magician and dancing all night long. That was so special!"

January brings the opening of The Café as the next phase of the first floor project. As a completely new food and lounging option, a question that has surfaced with some regularity pertains to how it will be used by the membership.

We've all been watching as the new 1st floor spaces have added versatile and desirable gathering spaces. The new lobby, Carmichael's Bar & Lounge, and specifically The Café, have been designed to make use of previously under used space and capture all-day usage for multiple purposes.

People have begun living, working, playing, and entertaining downtown. This societal change is coupled with the increase of both mobile and home offices. Our new spaces accommodate this modern lifestyle for all members. We anticipate members to use The Café for casual meetings, socializing, personal time for work or reading. It will be an all-day source for quick grab salads, sandwiches, light pastries, coffee and fresh juices.

When The Café opens, the service will be limited to quick serve, counter service only – just as you would be served in Starbucks. Sit-down, waiter service will be in Carmichael's Bar, Lounge, Casual Dining, Formal Dining, and The Booth. Just as we're monitoring member reactions to other features of the first floor (televisions, dress code, lighting levels, menu, etc.), we plan to monitor closely the consistency between the intentions for The Café service and members' preferred use for The Café.

Traditional restaurant dining and meal periods will certainly continue to be the club's key priority. A February completion time for the casual and formal dining rooms looks to be on pace. When the entire project is completed, in February, we look forward to seeing you at the grand opening party!

A New Year. A New Experience. It's an exciting time to join the ACC!

With the opening of the new restaurants on the first floor comes a new excitement building amongst current and prospective members. The "buzz" is contagious. Now is the perfect time to introduce your friends and family to the ACC!

The Prospective Member Reception on Thursday, January 18 gives members an opportunity to bring prospective member guests to a smaller gathering with small group tours throughout the evening. Limited space is available at this reception, sign up online. Complimentary drinks and hors d'oeuvres will be served.

If a larger event is more your style, consider attending the annual Winter Open House on Wednesday, February 7. The entire clubhouse, from top to bottom, will be open for members and guests to explore. Complimentary food and drinks will be served on different floors. Meet staff and engaged committee members on your self-led tour of the building. All members and guests are welcome, sign up online.

We look forward to seeing you and your guests at the club soon! Please contact Mary Megan Alvarado in the Membership Office with questions: 614.545.1351.

Beverages a-plenty!

By: Matt Livingston, Clubhouse Manager

Your Club wants to be your go-to resource when you have questions about wine, spirits, or beer. In fact, The ACC has 3 trained level one sommeliers through the Court of Master Sommeliers (myself, Paul Kroll, and Sara Newcomer), plus a Certified Mixologist (Jodie Hlavachek), and soon a level one cicerone (me again – it's like a sommelier, but for beer instead of wine. Honestly, Google it).

Through our knowledge and experience, we are constantly improving our beverage offerings to include featured seasonal craft cocktails using infused spirits, house made syrups and bitters, fresh squeezed juices, and even our own tonic water. We keep a rotating list of beers available in both The Booth and in Carmichael's by the can, bottle and draft. Our wine list currently has around 180 different bottles available ranging from a 1983 Bordeaux to a 2016 Sauvignon Blanc, and nearly everything in between. Did you know that all bottles of wine on our list are available to you at retail prices, without a corkage fee? That means that you can enjoy a bottle of Shafer Merlot (for example) for nearly $20 less than you'd pay at most any other restaurant in the city.

We're always looking to expand our offerings to better suit the needs of our members and their guests, so if you have any suggestions or questions please don't hesitate to reach out to me at wine@accolumbus.com!

Welcome to Carmichael's Bar & Lounge

A Walk with a Wisdom Keeper

By: Carl "Cullie" Rechner, ACC member since 1995

If I told you that I was wandering through a remote intimate canyon in the southwestern portion of the Grand Canyon and happened upon a wisdom keeper, you would surely think I had ingested the ever-present peyote cactus with its psychoactive alkaloids. However, that is exactly what did happen, and the encounter has left me with an indelible memory.

This three-day adventure began mid-October 2017 with another Columbus couple, my wife, and me on the Havasupai Trail, which is the main trail to the Havasupai village of Supai, Arizona and to Havasu Falls. The trail is approximately 8 miles with an extra 2 miles added on to reach the campgrounds, and descends more than 2,000 feet from Hualapai Hilltop (parking lot) through the Hualapai Canyon. Supai can only be reached by foot, horseback, mule or helicopter service offered by the Havasupai tribe. Supai, with its population of 208, has been referred to as "the most remote community in the contiguous United States." Supai is the only place in the US where mail is carried by mules. Havasu is the only Native American language in the US spoken by 100% of its indigenous population. The village has one small air conditioned 24-unit lodge (of course, that is where we stayed – I'm not Bear Grylls), a convenient store, a café (the specialty being fry bread which tastes and looks like a giant donut), a school, a Christian Bible church, and a Tribal Council building under construction.

But, it is not the seclusion of this place that draws one there. It's the geology! This is a place of incomparable beauty – a place where blue-green water (Havasu means "blue-green water") cascades over fern clad cliffs into travertine pools, and imposing cottonwoods and graceful willows thrive in the shadow of the palatial sandstone cliffs. Our daily hikes through the canyon above the village and to the Falls below the village were awe-inspiring and wondrous. However, our experience was heightened by a fortuitous meeting in front of the Tribal Council building with Roland Manajaka, an Elder of the Havasupai tribe.

As we walked, Roland spoke in a soft, soothing, gentle, firm voice of the native traditions, myths, and legends of his people and the Canyon (the Havasupai have resided there for over 800 years). Roland lamented that, even in their own village school, the Havasupai youth were not being actively exposed to their own language, sacred stories, customs and ceremonies. He further explained that Native American wisdom is deep, profound, simple and true. That, as a wisdom keeper, his role is to make his people aware of the universal connection not only to each other but to the earth and skies, the water, the trees and canyon walls, animals and plants, the moon and the stars. He emphasized the spirituality of his people, that each dawn as it comes is a holy event, and every day is holy, and that the Earth is a sacred place. He is trying to teach others to "walk lightly upon the Earth and live in balance and harmony."

Please understand that the Canyon and Supai together is not a Shangri-La. There are issues of alcohol and drug abuse, and petty crimes. But, here in this time and place, a people stand up in the light of all things good. Roland is behooving all of us to pay attention to each other and to our Earth and asking all of us to be "Earth Keepers."
